"Act Well Your Part"

"Act well your part!" That means everything-to do only the big things of our daily occupations thoroughly and efficiently, but to be as faithful in attention to the little things; to remember that "whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well," and to perform every duty, no matter how trifling it may seem, as though the salvation of the world depended upon its being well done.

True greatness is within not without. We can be what we will to be.

The first and worst enemy that any individual ever has to conquer is Self. To be master of one's self, - the conqueror of one's own inherent faults and weaknesses, - means to be master of the world; for to the one who has acquired perfect self-control there is no such word as "defeat."

"Act well your part; there all the honor lies!"

"Act well your part!"-not during fair weather alone, becoming discouraged at the first adverse wind, - but always-ever-faithful unto the end!

Oh, let us hold to the one ambition, and apply ourselves to its fulfillment, remembering the advice Shakespeare gave us

"To thine own self be true,
And it must follow as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

Class History

Yes, it is amusing to recall that morning in September of 1938 when 42 excited children under the direction of Miss Arnette Bryan gathered together for those coming days of toil. Can I ever forget that day Miss Bryan left the room and Nell Jean Wood and I had the desire to teach the class-so that we did. Oh, what happened to us when she got back!

My! The days flew by and we were promoted to the second grade. What stands out in my mind is the parties she always gave when we were so down and out. Something else I remember is the ceiling falling and all of us fleeing excitedly into the hall. But after all Miss Hales' ankle was hurt badly.

Then came the third year of our school career when we were joined by Thyra Duncan, Frank and Graham Cole with pretty Miss Pansy Jones for our teacher. It was at Thanksgiving that Miss Jones was married and left us. Who should now be our Teacher but that understanding Mrs. S. R. Cotton. Betty Herring then joined our class from Smithfield.

In the fourth grade our class was separated--Miss Margaruiette Smith taking part and Miss Fanny Aldridge the other part. The ones Miss Aldridge took were in the same class as part of the seventh grade, 47's graduates. How well I remember those cotton stamps that those seventh grade girls stuck around the bottom of Miss Aldridge's dress.

The fifth grade found us with Miss Margaret Holt, now Mrs. Nelson Wilson. It was that year that all those who couldn't sing learned to do so and that handsome Macon Stephenson joined us from Smithfield.

Well do I remember the sixth grade and Miss Katie Wood. She wanted school girls, not show girls, so she made some of the girls get lipstick off their lips.

The seventh grade found us with Miss Estelle Alsbrook. Yes, it was that chapel program which we danced to the music of "HINKY, DINKY, PARLEY VOUS" that I remember.

Now the time had really arrived that we had been looking forward to for so long. We were eighth graders and Mrs. Carl Parrish was our teacher. We had a club known as the "SERVICE CLUB" which was very helpful. Then we went to the club house and entertained the seventh grade, the present eleventh grade. That year we were honored by being asked to sing at the commencement exercises.

Ah-we had reached the long awaited goal-HIGH SCHOOL! There Misses Norma Wellons, Ola Hinson, and Mr. S. R. Cotton were our masters. In the ninth grade we had our class party at Nola Underwood's. Then came the tenth grade, and we found Bobby Lee waiting for us. Will any of us ever forget that 25th day of March when we were shocked at the loss of our friend, Betty Herring? Then, too, Miss Wellons and Miss Hinson turned up with diamonds as big as peas. The eleventh grade found us with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Uzzle, the new teachers, Derle McCabe and Lawrence Wilson, the new students. The most exciting day of that year was the one when we received those little round things with ruby sets---yes, it was our class rings all right. I remember well our Junior Play "PLEASED TO MEETCHA" and our party at the club house afterwards. It was this year that the male sex got a strong hold of Nell Jean Wood and Gretchel Moore and we lost them. Then came the twelfth grade. Yes, really a senior and so many things to look forward to-the main thing being Washington in the spring. By the way, we have two additional teachers, Mrs. Zack Perkinson and Mrs. Carl Parrish, and the new added subject was typing. Then came our senior play "HERE COMES CHARLIE" with the entertainment at Mrs. Uzzle's afterwards.

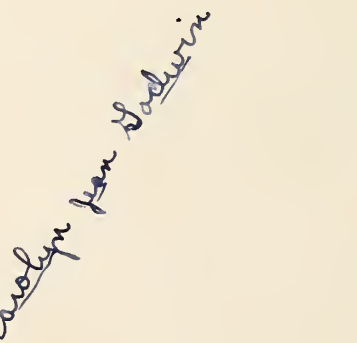
Now as I near the day of graduation, it really puts a funny feeling inside me to browse back through my mind and see my long awaited dream coming true.

Along the way, we have lost many of our friends, some by marriage, some fell back in the grades, and by other means. Here we are the faithful twelve-ready for graduation from high school and waiting to spin LIFE'S WHEEL faster than it has ever before been turned.

As remembered by-

Maxine Stanley



Senior Prophecy

Last night as I sat thinking of the Class reunions we hope to have and enjoy in the future, I found myself imagining these results: It is May 22, 1960, and every member of the present class has started his life's career.

Joyce Boykin, sixtieth president of the United States; elected by the Independent Party; active since infancy; mayor of her town three terms; and United States Senator two terms. This has not been made public and won't probably ever be.

Our friend, Derle McCabe has a very small voice,
But great big emotion and diction quite choice
So she'll be a radio crooner some day,
And sob all her troubles in either way.
She got to be that radio announcer at last.

Thyra Duncan, the school queen of 1949-50 has finally caught herself a man. It seems as if she has married her dream boat, Hubby decided to make their home in Clayton but having a boss they make their home in Tampa, Florida.

Mrs. Thomas Ford, alias, Maxine Stanley, is a teacher of auction and contract bridge, successor to the work of Whitehead and Lenz; winner of International bridge Tournament for fifteen consecutive years. After all she will still be a wife.

Nola Underwood premiere danseuse of the Russian Dancers, the Chinese Ballet and Tap Dancers was married and divorced three times. It seems that she can't make up her mind about Four Oaks.

Donald Barbour, orchestra leader and composer of distinction, is the soprano of the Cosmopolitan Opera Company. Still unmarried, he and his voice are having a wonderful time.

Frank Cole, owner and manager of the huge chain of restaurants known all over the world as the EAT AND RUN RESTAURANTS: self-make, prides himself on his rise from proprietor of a hot dog stand.

Bobby Lee, a pact of the new school, author of "Owed to a Tailor", "Lines of a Lady's Face", and "Sonnets to a Sunflower". Unmarried, but frequently reported engaged.

Horace Otto, famous inventor, married to that one and only Rose or is it Daisy? You know they are both flowers! He has invented over one thousand labor saving devices, all of which are blessings to humanity.

Billy Southerland is a member of the Academy of Arts and Science. In his employment are the most shapely bathing girls, the bravest heroes and the "MULTIPLICATION TABLES", a problem play. He seems to still like to take pictures of beautiful girls.

Macon Stephenson, three times Governor of the state of N. C. leader of the New Progressive Party, has as his motto "ALL FOR ONE AND THAT ONE ME". It seems that he still likes to be boss. He argues morning, noon and night, and wins, if he be wrong or right, So Lawrence Wilson of course, will be, Lawyer, Criminal and Divorce.

Now after such reminising the lives of the Seniors of 1950 will be able to spin in this world of power even one thin thread that will knit us closer to success.

Class Will

Article I.

Section 1. We, the Seniors, leave to Mr. Cotton pleasant memories of our four years together, and a feeling of pride in any great deeds or accomplishments our future may contain, realizing that such glories-if any-will owe much to his example and counsel.

Section 2. To our class-room teacher, Mrs. Uzzle, we leave our many thanks for the patience and understanding shown us for the past two years.

Section 3. To Mrs. Parrish we leave our very kindest regards and our sincere gratitude for her unfailing kindness and aid.

Section 4. To Mrs. Perkinson we leave the profound admiration and ever-enduring friendship of the class of 1950.

Section 5. To Mr. Uzzle we leave our many thanks for his help and understanding in our math class and hope that he has many more.

Article II.

Section 1. To all Juniors, we leave our sympathy and patience and hope that they might all graduate next year.

Section 2. To the Sophomores we leave our best wishes and hope that some day they will become proud seniors.

Section 3. To the Freshmen we leave a map of the School building, so that they will not get lost and roam about in everybody's way looking for their classrooms.

Section 4. To the student body we leave our best wishes for your future school career and the hope that you, too, might graduate.

Article III.

Section 1. Derle McCabe leaves her ability to learn French to Graham Cole.

Section 2. Frank Cole leaves his ability to play basketball to Melvin Garner.

Section 3. Donald Barbour leaves his ability to sing to all high school boys.

Section 4. Billy Southerland leaves his ability to draw to Patty Langdon.

Section 5. Thyra Duncan leaves her wit and humor to Lena Grey Price.

Section 6. Lawrence Wilson leaves his ability to tell large tales to Alton Wood.

Section 7. Horace Otto leaves his curley hair to Anna Belle Jones.

Section 8. Macon Stephenson leaves his tallness to William Benton Parrish.

Section 9. Bobby Lee leaves his pretty handwriting to Carl Parrish, Jr.

Section 10. Maxine Stanley leaves her ability to take a joke to Betty Gwen Johnson.

Section 11. Nola Underwood leaves her ability to drive a car to Jerline Barbour.

Section 12. Joyce Boykin leaves her pleasant disposition to Dora Jean Stevens.

Class Poem

For twelve long years we've been to school-
But now the end draws near
And with it comes our future thoughts
All filled with constant fear
What will the future hold for us
And what shall we all do
When out into the world we go
To start our lives anew.

Twelve years ago, in the first grade-
Not once we thought we would be left without a trade-
But now that we have to look ahead,
To find what the future holds
We--the twelve Seniors
Don't mind saying,
We wish we could find our goals.

Class poet,
Donald Barbour

Class Song

On a sunny day in May,
On a sunny day in May,
We'll pack our books and say goodbye,
And then be on our way-
The principal will shake our hand,
And as we march down the aisle,
To all our friends, that we shall meet,
We'll greet them with a smile.

On a sunny day in May,
On a sunny day in May,
We'll look into the future
And the things will seem to say,
Your schooling's done,
Your life's begun
And all our teachers will say,
Remember graduating
On a sunny day in May.

In Conclusion

It's been a bit of a struggle, this book---we've "perambulated" from Mr. Cotton through the Johnston County Tournament to the words of our advertisers, and at times it looked like this edition might tread us underfoot---but we met our deadline, and the book is being delivered to you on time.

Some twelve dependable students and Mrs. Jim Uzzle, our Senior Class Sponsor, have contributed hard work and long hours toward the making of this book. Acknowledgement is due to the many advertisers represented on the following pages. We appreciate the co-operation of all for whom this book is published, and most of all we appreciate the co-operation of the annual staff.

Here is your yearbook! We have worked diligently, and we trust that we have done a good job. We have enjoyed working together, and we only hope that the results will be what you want in an annual.
